We Need YOUR Data

Student and Faculty surveys opened for data entry on October 16th. If you have finished your FAEIS surveys, thanks! Otherwise, please enter your data as soon as you can. Your participation makes FAEIS the primary source for enrollment and faculty data.

See You at NASULGC

Dr. Tim Mack, PI for the FAEIS project at Virginia Tech, will be at the upcoming NASULGC annual conference next week in Houston. Stop by the FAEIS display for a minute. You can pick up the new data summaries, and view the data we have received to date for the 2006 Agriculture Colleges survey.

New Programs in Agriculture

One of the questions we asked for the Agriculture Colleges survey was Have you added or dropped any programs for 2006? Here are the programs you told us were added this year:

- Agricultural Business (B.S. & M.S.)
- Agricultural Sciences
- Animal Science (Equine)
- Biobased & Biosystems Engineering
- Business Administration
- Viticulture (Certificate)
- Crop Production
- Diet & Exercise
- Dietetics (M.S.)
- Environmental Chemistry
- Fisheries, Recreational Areas Management
- Food Science (2)
- Genetics
- Genomics, Cellular & Molecular Biology
- Horticulture Science
- Horticulture Business Minor
- Immunology & Infectious Disease
- Information Technology
- Natural Resource Management
- Nutrition
- Organic Agriculture (Interdisciplinary)
- Plant Science
- Poultry Science (Food Processing)
- Pre-Environmental Studies
- Resource Management & Sustainable Development
- Society and the Environment
- Turf Grass Science
- Wildlife

College Enrollment Surveys (FCS & NR)

Next week the FAEIS office will begin the annual survey for Colleges of Family and Consumer Sciences and Forestry and Natural Resources. We will call first to determine the best contact for your college, and followup with a simple e-mail survey. We will be asking for:

- Fall 2006 total college enrollment by degree level
- Programs added and dropped for 2006
- Non-degree (certificate) programs
